Boston.

You will not forget me in my present embarrassed solitariness. — Pray for me, — and let me have as many communications from you, direct and indirect, as you can conveniently supply. —

Believe me

Yours very affectionately

J. C. Calhoun

a good mule feel and speak rightly upon that subject — and that the abolition cause is evidently making way.

My mind is moreover yielding me continually increasing gratification. I find that I made more friends than I expected — and that it is likely to help forward, in some small degree the a better good understanding between the Churches there and in these Provinces — if not, between the Churches there and the Churches at home.

65 Receive my best thanks for your kind attention to my request respecting the Acres Rotais — Re two that I received, ~~were~~ interest me greatly. I cheerfully accept the liberal offer of the Boston Recorder, and shall endeavour ere soon to furnish him with a letter on ~~to~~ the topics that he suggests. — My visit to the States yielded me, at the time, much satisfaction. The only drawback related to the dancing question. But I rejoice to find that
